

Worry is a state of mind based upon fear. It works slowly, but persistently. It is insidious and subtle. Step by step it digs itself in until it paralyses one's reasoning faculty, destroyed self-confidence and initiative. Worse than the physical body at times suffers the Cancer the mental aspect also suffers

